Good Lesson Guide at Robert Clack School

All lessons should have a formal start

- ✓ Pupils should enter the room in an orderly fashion
- ✓ Pupils should sit down and prepare themselves for the lesson by removing their equipment from their bags
- ✓ The register should be called in silence

All lessons should have an introduction

- ✓ The scene should be set. The pupils should be informed about what they are going to learn in the lesson
- ✓ Where appropriate, pupils may be involved in recapping the previous lesson

Homework

- ✓ Homework must be given a high priority. An appropriate part of the lesson must be set aside for the setting of homework
- ✓ If homework is being returned, the teacher must give the class feedback and, where appropriate, reinforce the key points.

All lessons should have a period of exposition and engagement

- ✓ Pupils should be introduced to new ideas but it should be clear that they are extending their understanding of what is already known
- ✓ Explanations should generally be teacher led but must engage pupils frequently by careful and rigorous questioning
- ✓ Open questions should be used to encourage pupils to speak at length

All lessons should have a period of reinforcement

- ✓ The teacher should summarise what has been learnt during the lesson
- ✓ The teacher should check that the pupils have understood key learning points
- ✓ Pupil work should be checked to ensure progress has taken place

All lessons should have a formal finish

- ✓ It is essential that lesson finishes on time so that pupils are not late for their following activity
- ✓ Pupils' work should be collected in an orderly manner.
- ✓ After standing up, pupils should be instructed to place their chairs under their desks
- ✓ The teacher should stand by the door to ensure pupils leave the room in an orderly fashion

The room, including the board and teacher area, should be left tidy.
