Learning Styles

Some of the indicators of different learning styles include:

A visual learner:

- prefers to read, to see the words, illustrations and diagrams
- talks quite fast using lots of images
- memorises by writing repeatedly
- when inactive, look around, doodles or watches something
- when starting to understand, says ‘that looks right’
- is most distracted by untidiness

An auditory learner:

- likes to be told to listen, likes to listen, to talk it out
- talks fluently, in logical order and with few hesitations
- memorises by repeating words aloud
- when inactive, talks to self and others
- when starting to understand says ‘that sounds right’
- is most distracted by noises

A kinaesthetic learner:

- likes to get involved, hands on, to try it out
- uses lots of hand movements
- talks about actions and feelings; speaks more slowly
- memorises by doing something repeatedly
- when inactive, fidgets, walks around
- when starting to understand something says ‘that feels right’
- is most distracted by movement or physical disturbance
